

SGRP Conference Registration

University of Glasgow (6-8 July 2012)
Lecture Theatre G446 (Main Building)

This will be a three-day conference based within the Historic University of Glasgow in the heart of the Bohemian west end of Scotland's largest city. The speakers represent the diverse character of Roman ceramic specialists working in archaeology today and will present their recent research covering Britain, the Netherlands, Belgium, Romania, the Libyan Sahara and other parts of Europe. There will be a mixture of spoken papers, posters, handling sessions and a field trip.

This year we are very keen to have a good display of posters for the conference. If you would like to present your research using this format please contact Louisa.

The Friday night dinner will be an informal event within the beautiful Gilbert Scott Building, while Saturday's evening meal will be a more formal affair within The Sisters Restaurant (<http://www.thesisters.co.uk/>).

Please note that, as previously advised, as this is a campus-based conference and available accommodation was restricted, the deadline for residential bookings has now passed. The deadline for non-residential booking has, however, been extended to Friday 29th July. There is limited parking at the University of Glasgow and spaces need to be booked in advance so please contact Louisa as soon as possible and indicate on your registration form if you require a space to be reserved.

Due to previously advised restricted room numbers, please be advised that the fully inclusive price for the conference including overnight accommodation is no longer available. Delegates are still very welcome to register for the conference and rooms are still available through the university's Residential Services, contact details can be provided by Louisa on request or you are welcome to arrange alternative accommodation if you prefer. Please consider registering for the non-residential all inclusive package or a combination of individual days and activities, outlined below.

Our excursion will first entail a visit to the Hunterian Museum's new centrepiece exhibition: The Antonine Wall: Rome's Final Frontier. We will then embark on a coach trip to the Antonine Wall forts at Bar Hill and Rough Castle led by Prof. Bill Hanson. The trip will finish off with tea and a scone at the Falkirk Wheel before our return to the University to prepare for the evening meal at The Sisters Restaurant.

A daily rate for either Friday or Sunday attendance is £30 to cover the conference fee and refreshments, £42 would apply for Saturday attendance to also include the coach trip and Falkirk Wheel refreshments. Lunch on Saturday will be an additional £9 and the conference dinner on Saturday £40.
